

Fr. John Mary was born in St. Malo (Brittany, France) on Sept. 8, 1780. As a young priest after the French Revolution, he was very concerned about the plight of the young people and so he founded two religious orders of teachers:| The Daughters of Providence and the Brothers of Christian Instruction to make Jesus Christ more known and loved.

When he died in 1860 there were some 900 Brothers working in France and in the French colonies. He was declared Venerable by the Church in 1911 and in 1966 he was found to have practiced virtue to a heroic degree.

Today there are 850 Brothers working in 24 countries. The 20 Brothers of the Notre Dame Province (USA) are found in Alfred, ME and North Canton , OH.

"In your class, you must often raise up your spirit to the Lord, and pray to Him to bless your works. Make a concerted effort to inspire in your children a true and tender piety. Do not consider yourself as a secular teacher, but as a missionary entrusted with the establishment of the kingdom of God in their souls. That is your true vocation, and it will be in making saints of them that you will sanctify yourself."

"Sublime vocation! It is the vocation of Jesus himself. He left the bosom of his Father to fulfill the mission that yourself are asked to achieve at His example... You must teach the true doctrines to those who are still ignorant of them, and you will perform miracles in the spiritual order..."

"When God says He wants our sanctification, it is as if He said that He would like to find in us the perfections of His son. He wants us to be, in some way, as much as human weakness can permit, clothed with Jesus Christ, [...] and that we be His living image!"
